
Supplementary Figure 4. Daily morning mood trajectories by depression severity. Daily mood scores are self-reported in the morning. Lines represent group means and shaded areas indicate 95% confidence intervals around the means. The groups are color-coded as follows: normal (red), mild (blue), and moderate-to-severe (orange).